

With your continued generosity, we are laying the foundations right now for nearly 250 new homes, a campaign to increase rental assistance throughout the entire metro area, and expanding our capacity to engage congregations to advance equitable housing. Thanks to your gift, we are well on our way.

66 WEST APARTMENTS

Your support allowed us to open 66 West in Edina, and it marked new opportunities for nearly 40 youth in our community. One year later, on-site support services are empowering them to thrive in those opportunities.

Your gift ensures that each youth works with an on-site advocate to set goals and map a plan for success. Whether through getting a driver's license, creating a monthly budget, finding a new job or completing their GED, the residents at 66 West – and all our supportive housing – are able to build toward the future they desire. That future is easier to envision when youth can rely on the presence of trusted adults and other support services and realize they are not alone.

One year of successes. A lifetime of opportunity. Your generosity makes them possible. And together, we can assure even more youth, families, seniors, and single adults that they are not alone.

TIFFANY

"Families have enough to deal with and handle. Gaining housing shouldn't be a barrier families have to face."

Yet for too many families like Tiffany's, the barriers to home can feel overwhelming. "Being homeless was incredibly difficult," she says. "While doing my best to stay focused and encouraged, there were times I absolutely thought I would not find a home I could afford." Being in Beacon's shelter program, Families Moving Forward, gave Tiffany the space and the support she needed to find her strength – and a home.

Your gift gave Tiffany more than shelter: it inspired her voice as an advocate for more affordable homes. And it ensures that 50 families will have one less barrier to worry about as they search for home.

MARCUS

In the North Loop of Minneapolis, there's more than a new apartment complex rising: hope is, too. Great River Landing, Beacon's newest homes, will unlock opportunity for people who have experienced homelessness, unemployment, and incarceration. People like Marcus.

"Just think about a man who never had his own place to call home," Marcus reflected at the groundbreaking for Great River Landing. "Now, he can enjoy his own apartment with his family and enjoy personal space. That builds a better future."

Your gift creates homes like Great River Landing where hope rises and futures are built. Your donation is being put to work to plan for the next homes that will change landscapes – and lives.
