

New Homes' Eve

Join us in blessing Beacon's newest homes before we break ground.

Land Acknowledgement

Every community owes its existence and vitality to generations from around the world who contributed their hopes, dreams, and energy to making the history that led to this moment. Some were brought here against their will, some were drawn to leave their distant homes in hope of a better life, and some have lived on this land for more generations than can be counted. Truth and acknowledgement are critical to building mutual respect and connection across all barriers of heritage and difference.

We recognize that, as a housing organization, we are stewards of land that originally belonged to others who were subjected to forced removal based on U.S. government policies.

We begin this effort to acknowledge what has been buried by honoring the truth. All of the homes that we celebrate tonight either currently or will soon rest on the ancestral lands of the Dakota People. We pay respects to their elders past and present.

Learn about our partners:

Avivo specializes in helping individuals and families who face personal or systemic barriers – poverty, homelessness, joblessness, chemical addiction or mental health concerns – achieve recovery and economic stability. Learn more at www.avivomn.org.

Interfaith Outreach & Community Partners is a key partner in the Cranberry Ridge development and will be the service provider onsite at the property allowing their Permanent Supportive Housing program to expand and their Neighborhood Program to serve the entire community.

The sovereign Red Lake Nation is home of the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians. Red Lake Nation plans to provide agreements for Bimosedaa that open state funding and coordinate support services. They worked with the City of Minneapolis to open a Navigation Center on tribal land as a response to the Wall of Forgotten Natives. Learn more at www.redlakenation.org.
